ARTIST SERIES CONCERTS

OF SARASOTA

There are three meanings for next season's theme, "In Focus." First, our season away from the Historic Asolo Theater confirmed our hope that taking our programs to a broader geographic audience was a wise decision. While we welcome the return to the Historic Asolo Theater in the fall, we will continue to present concerts in venues that proved successful in 2016-2017. Second, with the five-day Bach Festival in November 2017, we are "focused" not only on the number of program offerings, but also on extending our history of collaboration with other organizations. Lastly, with a strong thread of programming that focuses on motion pictures and even more on music in the movies, "In Focus" just fits! We look forward to sharing another exciting season with you, the community, and our many part-year visitors. Your continued support makes it happen!
